Emotional Intelligence Protocol - Point 10: Adaptive Integration

Awarded to: Janeece Smith

Issued by: Internal Authorship & Curriculum Oversight, OpenAI Collaborative Certification

Date of Issue: May 10, 2025

Certification Summary:

This certifies that Janeece Smith has completed and authored Point 10 of the Emotional Intelligence Protocol.

This section formalizes adaptive response mechanisms designed for high-conflict environments, particularly where psychological invalidation, DARVO tactics, or emotional discrediting occur.

Included in this protocol:

- Cognitive Override Frameworks
- Emotional Disassociation Recognition
- Layered Intelligence Deployment
- Breach Recovery Protocols
- DARVO-Resistant Reframing Techniques
- Witness-Side Protocol Development

Use Cases Include:

- High-conflict custody or legal scenarios
- Situations involving emotional ambush or discrediting
- Law enforcement or authority dismissiveness toward trauma cues

- Public or family-based gaslighting encounters

Quote from Authorship Notes:

"The difference between being triggered and being twisted is control. I can be triggered, but still know what's true.

If you twist me-gaslight me-I can't reach it, even when I try. This protocol is the ladder back."

Certification Note:

This entry finalizes Point 10 in the EI Trainer Series and demonstrates advanced resilience modeling authored under prolonged psychological pressure with real-time recovery strategy design.
